F I A S I H A L L O F F A M E

In 1995, the Fixed Income Analysts Society established a Hall of Fame to recognize the lifetime achievements of outstanding practitioners in the advancement of the analysis of fixed-income securities and portfolios. Inductees will have made major contributions to the advancement of fixed-income analysis and portfolio management. These contributions may be academic, business-related or FIASI-related. The Board of Directors determines the annual inductees.

Martin L. Leibowitz, PhD was selected as the first inductee for his work facilitating the development of mortgage-backed securities, fixed-income indices, zero coupon bonds, portfolio dedication and immunization and bond portfolio measurement tools. Over the past 19 years, 44 members have joined the FIASI Hall of Fame.

The Fixed Income Analysts Society (FIASI), founded in 1975, is a not-for-profit professional society dedicated to the education of its membership and the fixed income community at large. FIASI serves its members by sponsoring programs and workshops covering topics of current interest and presented by distinguished industry leaders. FIASI also sponsors an annual Hall of Fame ceremony to recognize lifetime achievements of outstanding practitioners in the advancement of fixed income security and portfolio analysis.

The Fixed Income Analysts Society is comprised of fixed income professionals who value the opportunity to learn, network and discuss important fixed income topics with colleagues across the industry. We draw from all disciplines - buy side, sell side, intermediaries, quants and academics - and all sectors - credit, rates, economics, securitized products, foreign exchange, emerging markets, municipal finance and commodities. Seasoned professionals as well as those new to the industry will reap the benefits of a FIASI membership.

Seasoned professionals participate in FIASI events to maintain professional skills and relationships. Our broad range of events provide time-efficient forums to broaden one's market acumen, particularly related to current or evolving topics of interest. We also provide a balance of perspectives, spanning from academia to regulators, elected officials and market practitioners. Our panel discussions provide disparate views and generate vigorous debate. Managers also find FIASI sessions useful for recruitment and analysis verification purposes.

Those new to the industry will also reap multiple benefits of a FIASI membership. Access to many of the industry's thought leaders and numerous hiring managers can be invaluable at the outset of one's career. Ongoing mentoring and career advice is also available to all members. Volunteer opportunities can further enhance young professionals' understanding of the business community and deepen their relationship with fixed income veterans.
